I recently had the opportunity to work with the guys at Rugged Roofing and Construction. Leo Mendus and Dan Galloway introduced themselves to me and explained that they work with insurance to identify storm damage to roofing and get it paid for. We had already had insurance out a few years before, and they had paid a nominal amount to correct some wind damage, but not hail damage. Dan and Leo inspected the roof, found hail damage, and were instrumental in getting key personnel from the insurance carrier back out, and shortly thereafter a full roof replacement was funded.

My adjuster was very complimentary of Rugged's knowledge and professionalism, and the entire process was smooth. Chad Board got involved to manage and oversee the actual construction, and he kept me in constant communication. We are very pleased with the end result and the end price, and I would gladly recommend Rugged Roofing and Construction, and will use them when I have a need for their services in the future."

Sincerely,
