

Dear Prospective Rugged Roofing Customer,

My name is Max Daughtrey, and I am an owner of Four D Corp in Duncan, Oklahoma. In late 2015, Brennan Nowlin and Tommy Dalke approached me on a cold call. They stated that they were helping business owners in the area get new roofs due to storm damage for zero out of pocket. While I did not necessarily remember having a large hail storm earlier that year, I ultimately decided that a free inspection of my property wouldn't hurt anything.

To my surprise, Brennan and Tommy found widespread damage to my roof (both storm related and non-storm related). They told me that if I were to file a claim, they would meet with my insurance to help ensure that my roof was approved for repair. All that was asked in return was for me to retain them as the sole contractors for the project, should my claim be approved.

Here is what you need to know about Brennan and Tommy with Rugged Roofing:

- They handle themselves professionally
- They are extremely experienced in the insurance claims process
- They follow through on their promises
- They truly live up to the company moto of being "friends first, and roofers second"

Brennan and Tommy addressed each and every concern of ours, resolved all of the issues on our roof, and managed to keep the entire project from costing us a dime. On top of that, we are left with a more energy efficient and durable roofing system than we started with.

I was truly impressed by Brennan Nowlin and Tommy Dalke with Rugged Roofing and Construction, LLC. I really enjoyed working with these guys, and I know that you would not regret your decision should you decide to use either of them.

Sincerely,

Max Daughtrey
